COUNCIL BALKS ONCE AGAIN ON PAYMENT OF ATTORNEY'S FEES - WON'T PAY FOR DUPLICATE SERVICES

District Attorney will have to ante up according to High Court Rules

by Ferrin Cox

Elba city employees will get an extra holiday, with pay, this year thanks to the generosity of Elba city officials.

The city council voted unanimously Monday night to give all employees the day after Thanksgiving as an extra paid holiday, for 1994 only. Employees will now have a four day weekend, due to Thanksgiving being a regular holiday and all but police officers off on Saturday and Sundays.

The reasoning expressed by council members was that they had not been able to grant a pay raise to employees and this would be a small token of gratitude for their loyal service.

"I think we should pay our just bills but we are out of line paying duplications," said Council member John W. Sharpless

A discussion was held with City Attorney Mark Vaughan about the results of his efforts to get District Attorney Joel Folmar to either furnish or pay for prosecution of city cases in District Court.

Vaughan said he made little progress on the matter, even though Folmar did agree to the city receiving court costs of $10 or $25, according to the case. However it was noted the actual cost is higher than this and Supreme Court rules call for more reimbursement.

Mayor Ricky Haywood referred to Rule 17 of the Rules of Alabama Supreme Court which reads:

"When a municipality elects to abolish its court and transfer its cases to the district court system, the district attorney may, in his discretion, request the assistance of a municipality for prosecution of violations of the ordinances of the municipality. The municipality shall, when requested, furnish prosecutorial services in the district, circuit and appellate courts; provided, however, that prior to the furnishing of prosecutorial services by a municipality, the district attorney and the municipality should agree to an equitable reimbursement for said services." (emphasis added)

The above rule was the current ruling at 10:48 a.m. on August 26, 1994, according to the Administrative Office of Courts in Montgomery.

Elba abolished city court by Ordinance 81-1 on July 5, 1981, following guidelines established at that time by the Alabama Supreme Court, through the Administrative Office of Courts. Until recent months the District Attorney's office has been handling prosecution of all city cases in the applicable court.

City council members were told several months ago by Haywood that the District Attorney's office would no longer be handling city cases in District Court. This has caused an increased expense to the city and there has been no reimbursement as spelled out by the Supreme Court.

Vaughan was instructed to further explore this matter with the District Attorney. Vaughan said he would feel better about discussing the matter with Folmar face-to-face, rather than over the telephone.

Council member Brad Wilson reported to the council on his negotiations with Vaughan about placing the city attorney on a monthly retainer, rather than the present method.

He explained that Vaughan had agreed to serve for $1500 per month plus $75.00 per hour for actual court time and out of pocket expenses. This would begin on January 1st and be good for one year.

Vaughan said $2,000 was a better figure, but he understood the financial condition of the city and was willing to do this for one year, as long as the council members understood it might go to $2,000 after the first year.

The council members did not take any action on this matter. Police Chief Jack Parker reported responding to 24 complaints and issuing 29 traffic citations. These citations include 13 for speeding, one DUI and four for parking in a handicapped zone.

During this time period there were eight automobile accidents with five injuries.

The animal control officer picked up 15 dogs. None were sold and none returned to the owner.

Mayor Haywood reported numerous complaints about loud speakers in automobiles disturbing people. He asked the police chief what could be done about this matter.

Parker reported that many towns have ordinances to control "boom boxes." He said the one used in Montgomery was effective and easy to enforce. He volunteered to get copies for city officials before the next meeting.

Monthly bills totaling $10,662.12 were approved for payment.

Council members were then presented attorney bills from Vaughan totaling $4433.70. This was for work done during September and October. It included several days of prosecuting in District Court. These bills were also approved for payment.

Bills for Attorney Jackson W. Stokes were again presented by Haywood for payment. As before, the council took no action to pay the bills.

A lengthy discussion by council members questioned several items on the bill. A "previous balance" of $2600 was quickly cast aside.

A motion was almost made to pay the balance of $2,000 after City Attorney Vaughan said the charges were fair for the work done.

However, he would not rec-

Elections close and results unclear to voters of Alabama

by Ferrin Cox
Publisher

The November 8th General Election results are still not clear in many Alabama races.

The discontent nationwide with established government was felt locally and compounded by problems with the voting machines. Errors in computer tallies of votes in both Dale and Covington counties teamed to increase the concerns of individual candidates and their supporters.

The most noticeable of these is the two way race for Chief Justice of the Alabama Supreme Court.

News reports Tuesday indicate Republican Perry Hooper Jr. unofficially closing to within nine votes of incumbent Sonny Hensby with over a million votes cast. Hooper supporters were still contending that an accurate count would give their candidate the victory. This race may end up appealing to the Alabama legislature for final settlement.

Several other races have prompted candidates to retain lawyers to either officially or unofficially contest the results.

The confusion and discontent at every voting box in Coffee County prompted the Vote Certification Committee to bring in an outside CPA firm to recount the Coffee County votes on Friday of last week. The accountants found several minor errors but nothing which would change the outcome of any race.

Dwight Adams
Alabama Secretary of State

In the District 31 Alabama Senate race, Democrat Terry Ellis was in the lead in Dale County on Monday challenging the right of the county committee to change vote totals before certifying them to Montgomery.

Spicer has made no challenge of the House race in Coffee County, nor has he made any public statement on the outcome. At present he seems content to stay out of the spotlight and celebrate, with his wife Ceina, the birth of a nine pound plus healthy boy, their first child.

The ruling Monday afternoon by a Dale County circuit judge was that the committee had a right and a responsibility to insure the numbers were correct before passing them on to state officials.

Those Dale County votes and the additional votes in Covington County give Adams the election by something over 100 votes, if ultimate court or legislative challenges don't disallow them.

In the District 91 state house race, (Coffee County) an error discovered in reporting an Enterprise voting box at the YMCA gave Republican Garreth Moore an additional 100 votes. Moore was already leading Democrat Terry Spicer in unofficial counts by nine votes.

On Monday, all Coffee County election vote totals were forwarded to the Alabama Secretary of State's office in Montgomery.

A recap of eight of the races with local interest are recapped in a beat-by-beat breakdown on page 16 of today's edition of The Elba Clipper.

No statewide results have been released on the outcome of the 26 constitutional amendments voters faced last week.

Coffee County voters were forced to vote paper ballots if they chose to also vote on the individual races. The Coffee County voting machines were set up in such a way that the machines would lock out voting for both the candidates and the amendments on the same machine.

Garreth Moore
Alabama House Representative

This caused considerable problems early in the day Tuesday, before poll officials were told how to handle the situation. Reports of voting boxes being closed down for several hours, voters being told they couldn't vote on both the amendments and the candidates; voters being told to come back later, etc. jammed the phone lines of county officials and still prompts heated discussions in every corner of Coffee County.

Commission purchases health department transportation

by Marvin McIlwain
Editor

The majority of Monday's meeting of the Coffee County Commission dealt with honoring requests and the signing of resolutions.

One item which consumed much of the commissioners' meeting time took place behind closed doors. Reportedly, the discussion was with attorneys from Montgomery concerning litigation against the county.

No comment or statement was made by commissioners before or after the close session.

Kenneth Ball, Administrator of the Coffee & Geneva County Health Departments, appeared before the commission with several requests.

He informed members of the commission that a grant to purchase two (2) additional vans for the county adult daycare centers had been approved by the Alabama Department of Transportation (ADOT).

Ball requested that the commissioners sign a resolution as a part of the grant stipulation by the ADOT.

There will be no cost to the county for the purchase and operation (insurance, maintenance, etc.) of these vehicles. The health department will foot the bill including 20% match (approximately $7,000) required by the grant.

Ball also proposed that the county accept ownership of eight (8) vehicles previously operated by S.E.A.T.S. (Southeast Alabama Transportation System).

The appraised value of the eight vehicles (two 15-passenger buses, one 6-passenger bus, and five 22- or 24-passenger mini buses) is $28,000.

The cost to the county will be zero. Ball again told commissioners that the health department would pay the $5,600 to the ADOT for the transfer of ownership from S.E.A.T.S. to the county.

The cost of renovation (paint, etc.), maintenance, insurance, and operation will be funded by the health department.

The buses will also be used by the adult daycare centers and by the regional home healthcare training center.

The commission approved Ball's requests and signed resolutions to that effect.

County Engineer Mark Pool informed commissioners that he was continuing to have problems keeping S.E.A.T.S. to the county.

"We're not getting the type people we need driving our trucks," Pool said.

He requested that a committee be appointed to study the pay scale now being used by the county to compensate truck drivers and make a recommendation on what can be done, if anything, to improve the pay.

After some discussion, the commission voted to follow Pool's recommendation. Commission Chairman Lawrence Creel appointed Commissioners Robert Stephens, Bill Faulk and Wendell Black to work with Pool on the problem.

Assistant County Engineer Derrin Capps reported that the flood damage repairs to on-system county roads were approximately 60% complete.

The work is being done by S & C Construction Company and is reportedly on schedule. The work will be funded 100% by the Federal Highway Administration.

County BOE hears concerned parents

by Marvin McIlwain
Editor

The meeting agenda for Monday's Coffee County Board of Education appeared to indicate a short routine meeting but that was not the case.

School board members breezed through the first six items on the agenda but things slowed down when they heard from a couple of concerned parents.

The two parents, Mrs. Phyllis Jackson and Mrs. Sandy Griffin, have children enrolled in New Brockton High School.

Prior to the parents speaking, board members considered going into an executive session; however, both parties involved agreed to not call any names during the discussion.

The two mothers addressed the board concerning alleged discrimination toward their children, and others, in the New Brockton High School.

Mrs. Jackson told board members that her children, and others, had been disciplined or counseled numerous times on the word of one student and her mother.

Mrs. Griffin stated that the one unnamed student had broken numerous rules set forth in the school's student handbook without being punished or disciplinary action being taken.

She also eluded to the fact that the student in question had also failed to adhere to hand protocol without suffering any consequences, while other students are being required to do so, or being disciplined.

Both parents also informed board members that this particular student's mother and other relatives were approaching their children and others on campus without first receiving proper authorization to do so from the school office.

It is the policy of all county schools that ANYONE coming on the campus while school is in session must first check in at the office.

During the course of the discussion, other parents, approximately 16, who were present at Monday's meeting, joined in the discussion citing other incidences involving their children and the one student.

The board, of the two-hour discussion revolving around the one student in question, was that the parents were "fed up" with their children being discriminated against.

They told board members that no one student should be allowed to violate school policy and rules while all others are required to toe the line.

"It's just not right," said Mrs. Jackson.

Board members questioned all the parents present, as well as the principal and hand director who were also at the meeting, about the alleged wrong doings and discrimination.

They assured the parents that they would see that all students were treated fairly and that ALL students, regardless of who they were, would

With Ferrin Cox

The confusion last Tuesday left more than more than one Coffee County voter mad. However, if we look at the nationwide results of the election, the mad was there before the polls opened. Anyway, in our county no one area of the county was treated differently for any other area ... every voting box had the same problem! None of us like what happened, but having watched the reaction of voting officials closely as they scrambled to smooth out the bumps, we salute their fast reaction to the main problem. Once the day was in motion, it took fast adjustments to keep the election process moving.

The scramble of influence peddlers to get on the Fob James bandwagon is amusing. Elections are funded by special interest groups and their lobbying experts who then expect to get the ear of their winning candidate. Since most of the smart money went with Governor Folsom, the losing candidate, they are now in a stew. The dust will settle and we will all survive.

There is a lot of speculation on what will happen in Washington now that the Republicans are in control of everything but the White House. While the winning party is making plans to take over completely in two years, we are wondering if any of them will survive in 1996. First, they have made a lot of promises and must produce to be able to successfully face the voters. Then there is the problem of facing the voters if they do what they promise! Most Americans want welfare reform, cuts in military spending, etc. but what will be the reaction if it happens. Of course cut military spending, but don't touch Ft. Rucker, is our cry in South Alabama. Many people will get less government money from social programs, have less to spend and depend more on family or charity. The first group will be full of discontent because of the cut. The second group (those having to ante up for family members or through some other social program) will also be upset with government handling of the problem. Will voters again take out their concern on the ballot box ... only time will tell! We intend to continue doing our job as in the past ... --years (or more) and fully believe we will still have plenty to eat regardless of what the political tides do.

The Lord takes care of us country boys and sometimes goes the extra mile to make our life easier. Last week we were scheduled to attend a newspaper type meeting in Birmingham on either Thursday or Friday, Thursday is usually better for us, but the room filled up for that day before we got registered. Then the Elba Tiger football team got in the state play-offs against a Birmingham team and were playing there on Friday night. We made the meeting on Friday, had plenty of time to eat and look around and still get to the football game early ... and we did it all on one drive up the interstate!

Florida voters handily defeated a proposal to legalize casino gambling "to attract tourists," or so the promoters of the measure claimed. Now that the Florida voters have spoken loud and clear on this matter, maybe those backing the idea in Alabama will back off and find some other issue to support. Many Florida residents have expressed distrust for the promises of good, free flowing money from more gambling. They remind anyone who will listen that they were promised all this good stuff for education if they would approve the lottery program. They approved the lottery and it is highly successful in Florida but the school systems are still struggling for buildings, equipment, etc. ... just as their neighbors in Alabama are doing. They are making money with the Florida lottery but are using it for routine school funding and not for the "extras" promised during vote gathering time.

America Speaks: It's Time for Real Change

Not since the days of the Dwight Eisenhower Administration has there been such a dramatic shift in the political ideology of the United States Congress.

Last week, America went to the polls and pulled the lever for a Republican U.S. House and Senate.

The results of the national election finally mean that a new conservative Congress will actually vote on some long-needed reforms. The House's liberal leadership never allowed these reforms to receive a full House vote.

The 104th Congress of the United States will be sworn in on January 3, 1995. Here are the ten basic reforms that Congress has pledged to vote on next year:

1.) The Fiscal Responsibility Act includes a constitutional federal balanced budget amendment and a permanent line-item veto.

2.) The Taking Back Our Streets Act includes stronger truth-in-sentencing for criminals and effective death penalty provisions, and cuts criminal welfare spending from the just-passed liberal crime bill and uses the money to build prisons and hire additional police officers.

3.) The Personal Responsibility Act encourages self-reliance by reforming the current welfare system to discourage illegitimate births and teen pregnancy, and encourages work by dropping many welfare recipients from the program after two years.

4.) The Family Reinforcement Act strengthens the rights of parents in their children's education and enacts stronger child pornography laws.

5.) The American Dream Restoration Act provides a $500 per child tax credit offset with spending cuts and creates "American Dream Savings Accounts" — individual retirement accounts that may be used for education, health care and retirement expenses.

6.) The National Security Restoration Act would prevent the placing of U.S. troops under foreign command, and establishes protections against deep cuts in our national defense.

7.) The Senior Citizens Fairness Act would raise the Social Security earnings limit, and repeal the Clinton tax hike on Social Security benefits, while providing tax incentives for private long-term care insurance coverage.

8.) The Job Creation and Wage Enhancement Act includes incentives to help small businesses, cuts and indexes capital gains tax rates, and offers long-needed reform of unfunded federal mandates.

9.) The Common Sense Legal Reform Act would help prevent frivolous lawsuits by enacting "loser pays" laws and would set reasonable limits on punitive damages. It would also reform product liability laws.

10.) The Citizen Legislature Act would allow a first-ever vote on term limits for members of Congress. I'll keep you posted on the progress of these important bills and the many other reforms which will be voted on in your new Congress.

We Get Letters..... Sisters Found Boll Weevil Re-Dedication set

Dear Fellow Alabamians:

Through your Constitutional right to free and open elections, you have selected me to once again assume the mantle of leadership of the governor's office in January 1995. You have given me an awesome opportunity and responsibility and I will do my level best to represent you in the best way possible.

Gov. Jim Folsom and I have talked and will work out a smooth and orderly transfer of the state government. I have congratulated Gov. Folsom for running a good race and have pledged to work with his many supporters. Now is a time for unity and for team work to make Alabama better.

As we transfer the reins of state government, we will work with one goal in mind and that is to deliver. This is 1994 and as I said often during the campaign, we are closing down the 20th century. We have weathered the storm of politically turbulent times and now it is time for regrouping and rebuilding across the state of Alabama.

We will see our Constitution defined and established as we approach the 21st century. That means a recognition of freedom. A recognition of what our Constitution means and an awareness on the part of the people that winning elections is not enough.

The people of Alabama have called for the transfer of the mantle of leadership. The people are demanding results. I think that is a very healthy trend. I am totally in accord with it, and I am honored and humbled for the opportunity once again to serve the people of Alabama.

So, as we begin this period of transition, rest assured, we also will be preparing for a discussion of the important issues of education, economic opportunity and the overriding responsibility of any government to make our streets and homes safe. That's what my campaign was all about. That's what you can expect from the incoming James administration.

Please know that our administration will be wide-open to the questions and close examinations of the Alabama press corps.

Throughout my administration, I anticipate continuing the statewide radio talk show used in the campaign to communicate with the voters. I learned much from my conversations with people on the radio and look forward to using that forum in the future. I also will continue to maintain my ComputerServe account (74673.1174) so people can communicate with my office via electronic mail. It is important in this information age that people have the ability to obtain information as efficiently as possible.

Let me say again to Gov. Folsom, "thank you for a good race and thank you for your cooperation."

I also want to express my heartfelt appreciation to my supporters, to my family and to the wonderful volunteers who made this campaign a success.

We have each expended much energy in this campaign. We now must join together and channel that energy once again in a direction that will lead Alabama to better and brighter days in the future.

Thank you,
/s/ Fob
Gov.-elect Fob James

I would like to thank the people of District 3 for their vote, influence, and confidence in me on November 8, 1994.

I am proud of the accomplishments we have made in our Coffee County Schools and I will continue to work for all our schools to have a better learning environment for everyone.

With God's help, I promise to do my very best.

Thank You,

Twenty years ago, my two sisters, Janine and Natasha Hevia were taken from our mother by their father. For twenty years, my mother searched and searched for them. Ever since I was little, I wondered where they were and what they were like, and how great it would be if they were found. The older I grew, the more I wondered about them, and wanted to find them until I decided to start looking for them, for myself and for my mother. After trying different things, I decided to go to the Professional Detective Agency in Enterprise and see if I could get any help there. There I met Dennis Hobbs who was both professional and honest, and who also located my two long-lost sisters. Now my mother and I could stop looking. They were found. This past week-end, we had our joyful reunion. My mother was finally reunited with her two beautiful and wonderful daughters, and I was finally able to meet the two sisters I always wanted to find. It was a reunion we will never forget.

Dear Fellow Alabamians:

Through your Constitutional right to free and open elections, you have selected me to once again assume the mantle of leadership of the governor's office in January 1995. You have given me an awesome opportunity and responsibility and I will do my level best to represent you in the best way possible.

Gov. Jim Folsom and I have talked and will work out a smooth and orderly transfer of the state government. I have congratulated Gov. Folsom for running a good race and have pledged to work with his many supporters. Now is a time for unity and for team work to make Alabama better.

As we transfer the reins of state government, we will work with one goal in mind and that is to deliver. This is 1994 and as I said often during the campaign, we are closing down the 20th century. We have weathered the storm of politically turbulent times and now it is time for regrouping and rebuilding across the state of Alabama.

We will see our Constitution defined and established as we approach the 21st century. That means a recognition of freedom. A recognition of what our Constitution means and an awareness on the part of the people that winning elections is not enough.

The people of Alabama have called for the transfer of the mantle of leadership. The people are demanding results. I think that is a very healthy trend. I am totally in accord with it, and I am honored and humbled for the opportunity once again to serve the people of Alabama.

So, as we begin this period of transition, rest assured, we also will be preparing for a discussion of the important issues of education, economic opportunity and the overriding responsibility of any government to make our streets and homes safe. That's what my campaign was all about. That's what you can expect from the incoming James administration.

Please know that our administration will be wide-open to the questions and close examinations of the Alabama press corps.

Throughout my administration, I anticipate continuing the statewide radio talk show used in the campaign to communicate with the voters. I learned much from my conversations with people on the radio and look forward to using that forum in the future. I also will continue to maintain my ComputerServe account (74673.1174) so people can communicate with my office via electronic mail. It is important in this information age that people have the ability to obtain information as efficiently as possible.

Let me say again to Gov. Folsom, "thank you for a good race and thank you for your cooperation."

I also want to express my heartfelt appreciation to my supporters, to my family and to the wonderful volunteers who made this campaign a success.

We have each expended much energy in this campaign. We now must join together and channel that energy once again in a direction that will lead Alabama to better and brighter days in the future.

Zion Chapel Rebels' Football Sweetheart

by Kimberly Moran

Donna Windham has been chosen Football Sweetheart by the varsity football team. The announcement was made at the pregame ceremony before the Zion Chapel and McKenzie game.

Donna was picked by the varsity football team from a field of nine varsity cheerleaders. She has been a member of the Zion Chapel cheerleading squad for three years. She is also a member of the senior class, FBLA, and FHA. Donna is the 17 year old daughter of Paula and Alan King. She moved to Zion Chapel when she was in the sixth grade from Trinity, Alabama. She says she likes it better here at Zion Chapel, because it is small and the people here are very kind and friendly. Donna said, "Thanks to everyone at Zion Chapel and especially to the ones who voted for me."

Senior Class Meets

by Samella Green

Choosing the class colors, flower, song, and motto were the main topics of discussion at the first senior class meeting since officer elections were held.

In order to nominate a song, a tape and a written copy of the words of the song must be brought to the senior class sponsors for hearing and viewing. Voting in each of the categories considered will be held at a later date. Senior portraits which were to be taken during the same week were discussed. Each senior was given a schedule with appointment times for the senior portraits.

From the bottom of my heart, thank you South Alabama. Thank you for your vote of confidence in electing me to be your new state senator. This past week, the people stood up and took control of their government once again. They said we want honesty and integrity in government. They said we want Montgomery to work for the people, instead of the people always working for Montgomery.

On behalf of my family, we appreciate the many kindnesses that you displayed to us during the campaign. In a tough campaign, it was the people of the wiregrass who always picked us up and reminded us that running for public office can and should be an admirable endeavor when it is done to restore honesty, integrity and a conservative philosophy to government.

Again, thank you South Alabama and we look forward to being your partner in helping to restore our state government to a place of the people and for the people.

NPF Recipe Contest Winner

by Tazzie Messer

Hanna Whitt, a sophomore, competed in the National Peanut Festival Recipe Contest held at the Wiregrass Commons Mall in Dothan, Alabama. She fixed a creamy peanut cheesecake. Every person who entered the contest had to include peanuts in their recipe. Hanna was the only student to represent Zion Chapel in this contest.

Ms. Joan Hobbs, home economics teacher, received the information and forms about this contest. She told the students about the contest and anyone that was interested could enter.

Georgia Prize Peanut Cheesecake
1/4 cup butter or margarine; 1 cup graham cracker crumbs; 1 cup finely chopped dry roasted peanuts; 12 ounces cream cheese, softened; 3/4 cup creamy peanut butter; 1 (14 ounce) can sweetened condensed milk; 1/4 cup Reconstituted Lemon Juice; 1 teaspoon vanilla extract; 1 (6 ounce) container frozen non-dairy whipped topping, thawed.

In small saucepan, melt butter; stir in crumbs and peanuts. Reserving 2 tablespoons for garnish, press on bottom of 9-inch spring form pan or 9-inch pie pan; chill while preparing filling.

In large mixer bowl, beat cream cheese and peanut butter until fluffy; add sweetened condensed milk and beat Spicy Peanut Pork was the name of the peanut dish prepared by Julie Carter that won third place at the Coffee County FHA Peanut Recipe Contest.

The FHA Peanut Contest was limited to FHA members. The participants had to prepare a dish containing peanuts or a peanut product. Each person was evaluated on the overall recipe, flavor, texture, appearance, and effective use of peanuts and/or peanut butter and peanut oil. The creatively exhibited by each participant was included in the appearance score.

The highest possible score that could be earned was a 70. Angie Daniels from Elba was the first place winner. She prepared Peanutty Ham Rolls. Her score was 69. The second place winner was Cathy Gephart from New Brockton. She prepared Peanutty Sweet and Sour Chicken. Her score was 68. Julie Carter was the third place winner. She prepared Spicy Peanut Pork and earned a score of 65.

The recipe for Spicy Peanut Pork consists of 12 ounces boneless pork loin, 1 egg beaten, 1 egg white beaten, 1/4 cup Dijon-style mustard, 1/2 teaspoons red pepper, 3/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs, and 3/4 cup fine chopped roasted peanuts. Slice pork loin cross wise into four equal slices. Place meat between two sheets of plastic wrap and pound with the flat side of a meat mallet to 1/4 inch thickness. In a shallow bowl combine egg, egg white,

Hobbs & Cauley Big Winners At NPF

by Pam Johnson & Emily Hughes

Zion Chapel FFA members, Kevin Hobbs and Thomas Cauley, both juniors, attended the 1994 National Peanut Festival Cattle Show on November 4 and 5. Kevin's and Thomas' steers were just two of approximately 700 steers.

Kevin and Thomas spent parts of Friday and Saturday grooming their steers. They washed and blow dried their steers. They also gave their steers haircuts and made their steers' hair stick out with hairspray and glue. They had to go to Dothan Friday to register their cows. They also had to weigh in and groom them. They arrived in Dothan on Saturday morning around 6:30 a.m., to repeat the same things they had done the afternoon before, plus find out the class they were in. They said that the main thing that just did Saturday was wait.

Kevin was in Class II which included steers that weighed from 760 to 850 pounds. Kevin won sixth place in his class. "I did better than I thought I would this weekend," said Kevin. This was his first time that Kevin showed a cow.

Thomas was in Class I which included steers that weighed from 350 to 750 pounds. Thomas won ninth place in his class. "If I knew what I know now,

I would've done a lot better," said Thomas, after showing his first cow.

Kevin and Thomas missed the showmanship event category to play in the Zion Chapel w. McKenzie game Friday night.

Showmanship is where the person showing the calf is judged. They are judged on the training of the calf and how well it is groomed. Kevin and Thomas were supervised by Mr. John McCrory, the FFA sponsor.

FBLA Members Attend National Leadership Conference

The Galt House Hotel in Louisville, Kentucky, was the location of the Future Business Leaders of America National FBLA Leadership Conference on November 7-8. This conference was filled with informative workshops, interesting, enthusiastic, and comical guest speakers.

Eight Elba High FBLA members and their adviser attended: Annie Austin, Tiffany Burks, Derrick Daniels, Gary Davis, Will Gips, Tammy Knight, Gayshia Rodgers, and Mrs. I. Clark.

During the opening general session Friday night, in which 2500 members from across the southern region of the United States attended, several speakers such as Dr. Ginny Richardson, President of the Professional Division of FBLA, welcomed the members to the conference.

Dr. Edward Miller, Chief Executive Officer of FBLA, welcomed the members and also challenged the members to "formulate a plan for the future, take advantage of opportunities, and have a destination and a purpose."

The highlight of our trip came during the closing general session when one of the speakers said in the opening statesador of Southwest Airlines, spoke about the "Fun Formula for Success," which is, "staying Focused on what you want; Understanding what you want; and Noticing what you want." Following this session, members attended the "FBLA Dance" and had lots of dancing fun.

The Saturday morning session was filled with workshops for the members and their advisers. Some of the workshops that the members attended and participated in were "Body Language," "For the Boost You Need," "Project HELP Babies are our Business," "Business Ethics," "Conflict Resolution," and several others. The members enjoyed the meetings feeling that they had learned much that could benefit themselves and their local FBLA chapter. Saturday afternoon was a time for fun for the members as they socialized with new friends, walked to the mall, and did some shopping "Kentucky style."

The highlight of our trip came during the closing general session when one of the speakers said in the opening statements of his speech, "...FBLA members across the nation should follow the example of the Elba High School FBLA from Elba, Alabama as they plan their activities..." After calming down from this surprise, the members were entertained by another speaker, Patty Henderson, as she spoke about "Who I Am Depends on Me."

Sunday morning, members boarded the buses with the Alabama FBLA delegation for the long ride back to Alabama. The trip was a success because the members benefited from the sight, speakers, and new friends. Many new ideas that were presented can be used in our local FBLA as we continue to make our FBLA chapter the best that it can be.

Career Day & Assembly

by Patrick Scarborough

The seniors have been busy again this time with a career day and an assembly. Both were held on Thursday, November 3. The assembly began at 8:30 a.m. and included sophomores and juniors as well as seniors. The topic of the assembly concerned many moral questions that teenagers face today. At 9:00 a.m. the assembly was dismissed, and the seniors loaded two buses to travel to the 1994 Career Fair at ESC. Once there, seniors walked to the gym where many booths containing information about various careers were located. There, students could obtain information concerning careers that interested them. Seniors departed at 11:00 a.m. to eat lunch in the cafeteria. They returned to school shortly before fifth period.

On October 24, 12 members of the PALS class went to Maxwell Air Force Base in Montgomery for a day of fun and challenge. Maxwell is the home of the Air Force Squadron Officer School (SOS). This is the second year that the PALS class has been invited to participate in Project X, which is a part of the officer training program. And More Epitaphs...

Here Lies the Body of Malissa Anne Hall

Like all the great country singers of her time, She always had country music on her mind. Among her musical talents were jazz, classical, and pop. But all of her life, country music was always the top.

From Garth Brooks, Collin Ray, and Sammy Kershaw, To George Strait, Clay Walker, and Doug Supernaw, Many country songs described life from her point of view. Like "You Can't Have It All," "One Night A Day," and "I Still Believe In You."

"Life's a dance you learn as you go, sometimes you lead, sometimes you follow." Goodbye to a true country music fan. But that was part of God's great plan. Born September 21, 1978 Died --

Here Lies the Body of Mary Margaret Jacobs

It started with a tune, and she became a lover of music with a dream for fame. She would rhythmically rock across the ivories and twang on her guitar. One day she knew she would become a famous country star. Through dedication and perseverance, her talent was enhanced. She went on to Nashville hoping for a chance.

Many nights she spent performing in clubs and bars. She soon became discouraged, and her dream seemed very far. But one wonderful night, she impressed the right one. After all her hard work, it was now her day in the sun. Her songs entertained and touched people's hearts. She became a successful artist and her fame grew. She proved to everyone that dreams really can come true. Born: November 8, 1977 Died: ----

Here Lies the Body of Ivey Grantham

Like an old piece of cloth, Worn thin by time, Tom and tattered by life, Her scars shown together by her family, Life's sewing machine, This garment shall never be forgotten, For she will appear again in a newer fashion, Completed and perfected By the great seamstress, She was born December 27, 1935 Died 19--

Here Lies the Body of Winston Adkison

He was a remarkable man Who tried and tried again, He ran while doing his work, No duty did he shirk, He loved to work in the fields And rushed to eat his meals, He married at an early age, In 1939, that was the rage, He had a daughter and a son But never had much time for fun, To farming he was always true, That was the only life he knew, He was born December 27, 1935 Died --

GO, TIGERS GO!

by Shea Ward

The monthly SGA meeting was held on Wednesday, November 2, 1994. Elena Strong, president, called the meeting to order. Vice-President Shea Ward then led the members in the Pledge of Allegiance and gave a few words of inspiration. Elizabeth Strong, Secretary-Treasurer, read the minutes of the last meeting. The meeting was then brought to an adjournment by President Elena Strong.

Views From THE PRESSBOX

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

The front door at the Mularz house has always resembled a revolving door, since the girls go in and out almost continuously, and friends are always dropping in to visit. Last weekend was a perfect example as Melanie had her little cousin over to spend Friday night, and then on Saturday both Melanie and Melissa had friends over to play. We love kids and don't mind all the extra faces around the house, but we do have to buy new doors more often than most folks.

TIGERS SURVIVE FIRST ROUND TRIP TO BIRMINGHAM

The Elba Tigers made the long trip to Birmingham last week to open the 3A playoffs and enjoyed both the trip up and the trip back, as they easily defeated Briarwood Christian 28-13 to advance to the second round of the post-season party. The Tigers completely dominated play in the opening half as they jumped out to a 21-0 lead and outgained the Lions 228-87 in total yards, while in the second half the Tigers built a fired-up bunch of Lions and various injuries to hold on and easily claim the win. The 28-13 win by a 3-6 team over a 5-5 team may not have received much attention across the state, but the Elba fans up in Birmingham and back home in Elba enjoyed the win and enjoyed talking about it after the game.

Elba played one of its best two quarters of the season in the first half as they jumped out to a 21-0 lead and totally dominated action for much of the half. At the time the Tigers scored to go ahead 21-0, Elba had rolled up 9 first downs and 228 yards in offense, compared to only 1 first down and only 32 yards of offense for Briarwood Christian. The Tigers had driven 51, 43 and 72 yards for touchdowns, while the home-standing Lions' deepest penetration was at their own 49-yardline. Briarwood did drive late in the half and reached a first down at the Elba 1-yardline, but the defense turned back the threat and refused to give up any points as they protected the big lead. It was a half the Elba fans have seen in years past, and one that the players, coaches and fans could all be proud of.

The second half was a different story as Briarwood came out with 11 players within ten yards of the line of scrimmage and gambled that the Tigers would play it close to the vest with the big 21-point lead. The gamble paid off on Elba's first three series as the Tigers went three plays and punt; however, the Tigers did wake-up after a Briarwood score and responded with a 70-yard touchdown drive that took 15 plays and used up almost seven minutes of the clock. Briarwood did score late, but it was only after Elba was practically wiped out by injuries in the secondary, and had no impact whatsoever in the win.

The Elba offense had a good night as Detrick Kyles gained 116 yards on 19 carries and scored 3 touchdowns, while Chris Tyson gained 86 yards in the first half before being injured and Sterling Jones gained 33 yards on just six carries filling in for Tyson. The offensive line blocked well and the backs ran hard, which is a deadly combination at any level of play. The Elba passing game wasn't sharp, but it did click on 5 of 8 tries in the second half for 34 yards and accounted for 44 yards on the 70-yard drive that put the win in the bag. Chris Hudson, Rudy Free, Cory Howe and Detrick Kyles all had big receptions, and the defense seemed to gain confidence as the game progressed. The offense put 28 points on the scoreboard and had over 300 yards on the night, both figures that should lead to many, many wins.

The Elba defense dominated for almost the entire first half, but had problems when Briarwood went to its no-huddle offense and in the end was struggling just to find enough bodies to fill all the positions. Todd Hooks, Rudy Free and Demaris Barnes all had big nights up front, while Griffin Shirley intercepted 2 passes, one in the Elba endzone, and D'undray Peterson and Che Vaughan also came up with big interceptions. The defense played on its heels at times in the second half against a well-coached no-huddle offense; however, the defense did make more than enough big plays to make the win possible.

Summing up the win, it was a mighty big win for a team that needed to win on the road against a good football team. The Tigers' win over Briarwood gave the Tigers their straight road and four wins in their last five games. Hold on, something tells me the Tigers are still very much alive!

BRANTLEY WINS, KINSTON EXITS EARLY IN ROUND #1

The two Bulldogs from the local area had mixed results last week in the opening round of the playoffs as Brantley claimed a big win at home and Kinston got wiped out on the road. Here are quick looks back at what happened...

KINSTON was a big underdog in its matchup against Frisco City and it turned out that the sportswriters were right, for once, as the Whippets used their speed to run past the Bulldogs 40-8. Kinston had a much better team than its record showed and the Bulldogs have emerged into a solid small school football team. The Bulldogs just need one big season to get over the hump, and that could come in the form of a win over a more powerful team. The players, coaches, school officials and fans in Kinston are all dedicated to winning, and that dedication will pay off down the road.

BRANTLEY didn't exactly wipe out Montgomery Academy, but the Bulldogs were in control from almost the start as they claimed a 28-9 win. Brantley fans are disappointed when the Bulldogs don't win by forty, but in the playoffs, in the 2A ranks, the competition is a little stiffer and many times even good teams struggle. Brantley has one of the best 2A teams in the state and the fans need to come back out and give them the support they deserve.

OPENING ROUND OF PLAYOFFS ALWAYS INTERESTING

The state high school playoffs opened last week, and like always, there were plenty of surprises and plenty to talk about. Here's a quick look back at week #1...

*A lot of fans and coaches believe that teams that don't win their areas don't belong in the playoffs. They may be right, but in last week's opening round 23 runner-ups claimed wins over Area champs, which may suggest that the answer to the question is...maybe they do.

*The opening round had something for everyone, as action in all classes included impressive and unimpressive performances, as well as the usual number of upsets. Let's look back...

CLASS 6A - Some unimpressive wins included Vigor 19 Talladega 10, Lee 24 Carver 14 and Jeff Davis 13 Prattville 7, while the big upset saw Baldwin County shock Murphy 35-21. Impressive wins came with Jess Caloosa Central over Bradshaw 36-7, Woodlawn over Johnson 43-0 and Tuscaloosa Central over Austin 49-0.

CLASS 5A - Less than impressive wins came from Stanhope Elmore in its 13-7 win over Valley and Greenville's 20-7 win over Demopolis, while upsets included Choctaw over Blount 16-14 and Wenonah over Oxford 8-3. Good games? A few included Smiths Station over Wetumpka 28-7, Hillcrest over Opp 21-7 and John Carroll over Walter Wellborn 21-16.

CLASS 4A - Lincoln and Lanett posted less than spectacular wins over Thomasville 7-0 and Dale County 7-6, respectively, while the biggest upset in any class was W.S. Neil eliminating Pike County 9-7. Two of the most impressive wins were turned in by T.R. Miller, 24-14 over Daleville, and by Cleburne County, 55-0 over Pleasant Grove.

CLASS 3A - Two less than impressive wins came from B.B. Comer's 14-11 win over St. James and the U.M.S.-Wright 14-6 win over Slocomb, while impressive wins included Daleville over Catholic 35-7, Luverne over West Blocton 53-14, South Lamar over Etowah 44-24 and J.B. Pennington over Winfield 54-16.

CLASS 2A - Brantley's 28-9 win over Montgomery Academy was anything but impressive, but big wins were turned in by Flomaton over Vinona over Washington County 57-18 and Hazlewood over Olathe 48-0.

CLASS 1A - McKenzie's 21-14 win over Fruitdale was one of the least impressive wins in this class, while the biggest upset came in Maplesville's 16-14 shocker over #1 Arion. Impressive wins were turned in by Billingsley 48-0 over Coffee Springs and Talladega Central 22-0 over Parrish.

NOT VERY EXCITING, BUT STRANGELY ENTERTAINING

I went up to Greenville last Thursday night to watch the Greenville-Demopolis game and expected to see a very talented Greenville team run up and down the field against a 5-5 opponent. What I saw was Demopolis carry a 7-0 lead into the third quarter and Greenville make more than enough mistakes to lose two or three games, much less one. The Tigers had two touchdowns nullified by penalties, had their coach ejected in the second quarter after a second penalty against the Greenville coaching staff and used all three time-outs in the initial five minutes of the third quarter. Greenville did use its superior talent to win the halgame, but there can be no doubt that the Tigers got their "bad game" out of the way in round #1.

LOCAL GUESSPICK ENJOYS EARLY PLAYOFF SUCCESS

Ye Ole Polish Prognosticator was feeling good when he stopped by the Clipper Sunday afternoon and probably had a right to be happy after hitting on 24 of 30 picks in the opening week of the playoffs. The playoffs are never an easy time for high school guesspicks; however, last week our local guesspick came through on such picks as Smiths Station over We-tumpka, T.R. Miller over Daleville, Hillcrest over Opp, Daleville over Catholic, Leroy over Florida, and even hit on Maplesville's upset win over #1 Arion. The 24-6 week moved his totals for the season to 388-74, which ain't too bad. Here are this week's playoff picks...

ELBA VS. UMS-WRIGHT

The Tigers overcame a rash of injuries and a pass happy private school to advance to the second round of the playoffs, but will have to get well in a hurry for a second round matchup with a big, strong UMS-Wright team from Mobile. All signs point to a win by the visitors; however, the Tigers will be back at home, and when things get tough, there's no place like home!

ELBA 16 UMS-WRIGHT 14

BRANTLEY AT CLAY COUNTY

The Bulldogs' offense has stumbled at times this season and this week will run head on into the stingiest defense in the state. If Brantley can't put some points on the scoreboard and play solid on defense it will have a chance at pulling off the upset. The defense will show up and keep it. CLAY COUNTY 14 BRANTLEY 8

Host 5-6 UMS-Wright Bulldogs

Elba at home for round two action

The Elba Tigers and U.M.S.-Wright Bulldogs were easy teams to overlook when the Class 3A football playoffs began last week across the state.

After all, Elba posted a 3-6 regular season record and made the playoffs as the Area 4 runner-up, while U.M.S.-Wright had a 4-6 regular season site and made the post-season party as the runner-up in Area 1.

This week the teams' records are 4-6 and 5-6, respectively. However, no one is overlooking the two teams any more, as both are coming off big opening round wins and will be back in the playoffs in Elba, with the winner to advance to the third round action.

Elba Tigers looking to continue playoff success at home Friday

The Elba Tigers have been one of the state's winningest teams over the past six years, and Friday night when they host the U.M.S.-Wright Bulldogs in the second round of the Class 3A playoffs, the Tigers will be looking to continue their streak of eight straight playoff wins at home.

The Tigers have an overall playoff record of 26-9 under the guidance of Coach Mack Wood, including a record of 15-2 in the Tigers' last five trips to the post-season party. The last time Elba lost a playoff game at home was way back in 1988, when Ben Holtville stunned the Tigers 7-6, and since the loss, Elba has had a perfect 8-0 when playing in Elba.

While the Tigers have enjoyed enormous success in the playoffs, the last time U.M.S. came to town, the Bulldogs handed the Tigers a 20-14 defeat on their way to the 3A state title.

you wide and break a long run. The offense isn't that complicated, they just do a real good job blocking and running, and can hurt you with the pass if you load up at the line."

"Their defense has struggled at times," added Wood, "but they really took it to Slocomb last week and play hard-nosed football."

U.M.S.-Wright claimed wins over Robertsdale 31-21, Alba 26-6, Briarwood Christian 26-21 and St. Paul's 21-7, during the regular season, while losing to Baker 33-28, Grand Bay 27-26, Gulf Breeze 23-17, Leroy 16-0, Southern Choctaw 25-13 and Pace 14-7.

The offense is sparked by running back Ted Doody, who gained 205 yards rushing against Slocomb and gained a season-high 255 yards in the win over Briarwood Christian.

"We will have to be balanced on offense to move the football," said Wood, "and block much better than we did at times last week. We can pass the football and we will have to be effective passing this week to keep their defense honest. Our defense will have to get physical up front and tackle well. U.M.S.-Wright has a ball-control type team and can dominate the game if you don't get physical with them and don't get after the football."

The Elba offense has been led this season by the running of Chris Tyson and Detrick Kyles. Tyson has gained 758 yards on 132 carries and scored 4 touchdowns, while Kyles has added 708 yards on 107 carries and has scored 15 touchdowns in Elba's ten games.

Che Vaughan has hit on 37 of 81 passes for 452 yards and 3 touchdowns, with his favorite receiver being light-end Cory Howe, who has caught 18 passes for 211 yards.

The Elba defense, which allowed 16.6 points per game during the regular season, but only 8 points per game in the final five games, is led by linebacker Rudy Free with 65 tackles and 14 assists, tackle Demaris Barnes with 50 tackles and 10 assists, noseguard Todd Hooks with 48 tackles and 12 assists, defensive-end Cory Howe with 34 tackles and 8 assists and linebacker Todd McKee with 33 stops and 6 assists.

The secondary is paced by Che Vaughan and Griffin Shirley, both of whom have intercepted 2 passes. "We'll have to play better than we did last week just to have a chance at winning," stated Coach Wood. "We need to get some players healthy, because we are already so short-handed, and get a maximum effort from every player on the team. Last week we faced a team that threw the ball 39 times and this week we face a power team that likes to run. We'll have to adjust and be ready for a physical, hard-fought high school football game."

Elba's Todd Hooks recovered a Briarwood fumble after a big hit by Cory Howe on the Lions' next possessions, and once again the Tigers headed for the endzone!

Detrick Kyles and Chris Tyson combined for 24 yards on three carries to get the drive off to a quick

Elba's Chris Tyson (20) struggles against the middle of the Briarwood defense. Tyson gained 86 yards and scored a touchdown, all in the first half, as the Tigers jumped out to a 21-0 lead and coasted to the 28-13 win.

In 3A playoff opener

Tigers chop down Briarwood 28-13

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

The Elba Tigers jumped out to a commanding 21-0 halftime lead and turned back a late Briarwood Christian rally Friday night to open the Class 3A playoffs with a 28-13 win over the Lions, in Birmingham.

The win improved Elba's record to 4-6 and moved the Tigers into second round action, while the loss left Briarwood Christian with a final record of 5-6.

The opening three possessions of the game ended in punts, as Elba's defense held Briarwood to negative yardage on two series, and the Lions limited the Tigers to only one first down on their initial series.

Elba began its second offensive possession at its own 49-yardline and this time needed only one play to reach paydirt, as on first down Detrick Kyles took the handoff on a trap play up the middle and raced 51 yards for a touchdown. Michael Vines booted the extra-point and with 5:23 left in the first quarter Elba was on top 7-0.

Elba's Todd Hooks recovered a Briarwood fumble after a big hit by Cory Howe on the Lions' next possessions, and once again the Tigers headed for the endzone!

Detrick Kyles and Chris Tyson combined for 24 yards on three carries to get the drive off to a quick start, while an 11-yard pass from Che Vaughan to Cory Howe gave the Tigers a first down and goal at the Lions' 8-yardline.

Tyson capped the 43-yard, five play drive, one play later on a one-yard plunge, and Michael Vines added the extra-point as Elba increased its lead to 14-0 with 1:09 still left in the opening stanza.

A 49-yard scamper by Chris Tyson gave the Tigers a first down at the Briarwood 25-yardline early in the second quarter and it appeared that Elba would add to its lead; however, a penalty slowed the march, and the Tigers came away empty-handed as on fourth down a 47-yard field-goal try by Michael Vines fell short.

Elba began its next series at its own 28-yardline following Briarwood's fourth punt of the half, and the Tigers promptly marched 72 yards in nine plays to move back into the endzone.

Griffin Shirley gained 16 yards on a reverse and Sterling Jones added a 31-yard scamper during the drive, while the score came when Detrick Kyles ran over five Briarwood defenders on an 11-yard TD run up the middle. Vines again hit the extra-point and Elba was in command with a 21-0 lead with 3:48 remaining in the half.

Briarwood's offense, which had gained a total of only 32 yards in its initial five series, switched to a no-huddle attack after the Elba score and behind the passing of Jamie Lumpkin came to life and quickly headed downfield.

Wide-receiver Chad Hartsfield pulled in three Lumpkin tosses for 41 yards to help the Lions reach the Elba 1-yardline with 3:11 left in the clock, but a five-yard penalty moved the Lions back to the six, and on the next play the Tigers turned back the challenge as Griffin Shirley intercepted a Lumpkin pass in the endzone.

The Elba offense went three plays and punt on their initial three series of the third quarter, while the Tiger defense turned back two Lions' possessions with interceptions by D'undray Peterson and Griffin Shirley.

Briarwood put the ball in play at its own 19-yardline with 3:59 left in the third quarter after Elba's third punt of the stanza, and finally got on the scoreboard as the Lions marched 81 yards in 13 plays to score their first touchdown of the night.

Lumpkin completed three straight passes for 52 yards to open the drive, and later hit two more aeriels as the Lions moved to a first and goal at the Elba 6-yardline.

The score came on third down

Detrick Kyles blasted through the middle of the Lions defense on an 8-yard run one play later, and Vines added the extra-point, giving the Tigers a 28-7 advantage with 3:25 left in the game.

Briarwood was down, but not about to quit, and stunned Elba by marching 54 yards in only seven plays to get back in the endzone.

A 35-yard pass from Lumpkin to John Fulkerson on fourth down and 10 was a key play early in the drive, while the score came on a 19-yard pass from Lumpkin to Wilkins Webb. The extra-point try was partially blocked, leaving Elba with a 28-13 lead with 2:26 still left on the clock.

Briarwood threw a scare into the Tigers when it converted an on-sides kick on the ensuing kickoff, but this time the defense was up to the challenge, as Che Vaughan made a diving interception to stop the Lions at the Elba 10-yardline.

Briarwood used all three of its time-outs and forced Elba to punt from its 11-yardline, however, Vaughan boomed a 60-yard punt to put the Lions back at their own 29-yardline and Elba held on to claim the 28-13 win.

Detrick Kyles gained 115 yards on 19 carries and scored 3 touchdowns, and also caught two passes for 23 yards, to account for 140 yards in total offense, while Chris Tyson gained 86 yards on 8 carries, all in the first half.

Che Vaughan gained 7 yards on four carries and completed 6 of 13 passes for 65 yards.

Jamie Lumpkin completed 18 of 39 passes for 243 yards to lead Briarwood, with Chad Hartsfield pulling in 7 passes for 93 yards and Wilkins Webb hauling in 6 passes for 70 yards.

Todd Hooks made 5 solo tackles, one assist and one fumble recovery to lead the Elba defense, which held Briarwood to only 12 yards rushing on 18 carries.

Demaris Barnes also made 5 solo tackles, while Rudy Free added 4 tackles and 1 assist and Griffin Shirley made 4 tackles and intercepted 2 passes.

Brantley's Moreo Jones (3) is off and running against the Montgomery Academy defense. Jones gained over 190 yards to spark the Bulldogs to the playoff win.

Brantley's Charlie Layton (34) pulls away from Montgomery Academy defenders at the goal-line and scores a Bulldog touchdown in Brantley's 28-9 playoff win.

Brantley will challenge state's stingiest defense Friday in clash with Clay County

Life is always tough on the road, especially in high school football, and the Brantley Bulldogs will find out just how tough it can get this week when they travel to Ashland to battle the highly-touted Clay County Panthers, in the second round of the Class 2A football playoffs.

Brantley defeated Montgomery Academy 28-9 last week to improve to 9-2 on the season, while Clay County improved to 10-1 with a 48-0 rout over Excel.

The Bulldogs, the 1993 state 1A champs, have lost only twice this season, to 4A Daleville and top-ranked Georgiana, and have averaged over 27 points a game, while allowing 10 points per game.

The explosive Brantley offense is led by the running of Moreo Jones and Charlie Layton, and the running and passing of quarterback Ivan Christen. Jones has the speed to break a long run on any play, while Layton is a powerful back who possesses both power and speed.

The Bulldog defense is anchored by Eric Crenshaw and Jimmy Burnett, and considered the strength of the '94 Bulldog squad.

Clay County lost its first game of the season to undefeated 4A power Cleburne County 3-0, but hasn't lost since and has the state's stingiest defense and one of the state's top scoring offenses.

The defense has allowed only 13 points in 11 games, an average of only one point per game, while on offense the Panthers are scoring at a 33 point clip.

The wins since the opening loss have been over Elmore County 28-7, Coosa Central 39-0, Randolph County 33-0, Vincent 32-0, Bibb Graves 40-0, Wincorboro 62-0, Talladega Central 8-0, Horseshoe Bend 47-0, Lineville 27-3 and Excel 48-0.

The Panthers played eight games during the regular season against playoff teams, and routed an excellent Excel team in last week's opening round.

Brantley has one of the state's top Class 2A teams and has nothing on the road over a two-point game, with the credentials of Clay County would make the Bulldogs one of the favorites in '94.

This battle will be one of the best in the state in week #2 of the playoffs, in any class!

Horses must be fed differently when preparing for competition

By Stan Windham, County Agent

Horses that are involved in the show ring or in penning, cutting, or rodeo events have some of the highest nutritive requirements among equine animals. Many times their requirements are the highest but are the most poorly met. There are some considerations that should always be kept in mind when feeding horses for show.

One consideration is that most horses start training very shortly past 12 months of age or earlier. This is comparable to a boy or girl in their teen years or younger doing athletic events. If you are only barely meeting the nutritional requirements and working a young horse hard, you are asking for serious problems down the road. The easiest answer to this problem is moderate the work you give a young horse and make sure you are feeding a high mixed ration or bag feed along with a mineral to meet their needs. Body condition is a good indicator of whether they are getting adequate feed.

Some rules of thumb in feeding production horses are: feed from 1/2 to 1 pound of grain and 1 to 1 1/2 pounds of hay for every 100 pounds of live weight. For example, if a horse weighed 1,000 lbs. he would need to get 10 lbs. of grain at the max and up to 15 lbs. of hay each day. Another good rule of thumb is that horses love salt and minerals. They need access to a good salt/mineral mixture. This should be provided at all times or you can incorporate minerals into the ration. However, I feel that for performance horses some added vitamins and minerals in the feed as well as having free choice vitamins and minerals is certainly a good plan. Another consideration in feeding young horses or performance horses is an available abundance of fresh clean water. Water is very, very important to the digestive system of a horse. It helps reduce compaction and many other things that can go wrong.

Over Montgomery Academy in 2A playoffs Brantley coasts to 28-9 win

By Greg Brunson, Sports Writer

The Brantley Bulldogs opened the 1994 playoffs at home Friday night against the Montgomery Academy Eagles and survived a sluggish offense that turned the ball over 4 times to post a 28-9 win.

Montgomery Academy drove the football right at the Bulldog defense as the game opened and marched straight down the field. Robert Brown booted a 26-yard field goal on the 17th play of the drive and with 4:32 left in the first quarter the Eagles held a surprising 3-0 lead.

Brantley didn't let the Eagles hold the lead for long; however, as on the Bulldogs second play from scrimmage, Moreo Jones broke loose up the middle and raced 80 yards into the endzone. Pete Hill added the extra-point and Brantley owned a 7-3 lead with 3:08 remaining in the first quarter.

Midway through the second quarter Brantley put the ball in play at its own 45-yardline, and in nine plays the Bulldogs were back in the endzone.

It took the Bulldogs nine plays to cover the 55 yards, with the TD coming on a 5-yard run by Charlie Layton. A big play in the drive was a 39-yard pass play from Ivan Christen to Keith Howard, while Layton got the score and Hill added the p.a.t., putting Brantley on top 14-3 with 1:29 left in the half.

The Bulldogs turned the ball over to open the second half as William Gordon intercepted a Brantley pass, but the Bulldogs got the ball back on an Eagle punt and marched 85 yards to blow the game open.

An 11-yard run by Moreo Jones and a 21-yard punt by Ivan Christen were key plays in the drive, while the score came on the fifth play of the drive when Eric Crenshaw made a beautiful one-handed grab of a Christen pass and raced 53 yards for the touchdown. Pete Hill tacked on the extra-point and with 5:20 left in the third quarter Brantley was on top 21-3.

The Bulldog defense got on the scoreboard next as Jimmy Burnett intercepted a Robert Brown pass and returned it 70 yards for a touchdown. The extra-point by Hill was true, and with 2:16 left in the stanza the Bulldogs were in complete command with a 28-3 advantage.

later the Eagles were in the endzone as Brown hit Ray Johnston for 3 yards and the Eagle. A two-point try failed, leaving Brantley with a 28-9 lead with 8:31 remaining in the game.

The Bulldogs marched quickly down the field behind the running of Moreo Jones, but another fumble stopped the march at the Eagle 1-yardline.

Whippets race past Kinston 40-8

By Cade Shiver, Sports Writer

A Whippet is a racing dog, and Friday night the Frisco City Whippets pulled ahead at the starting line and never looked back as they chattered the Kinston Bulldogs 40-8, in the opening round of the 1A football playoffs.

The win improved Frisco City's record to 7-4, while Kinston ended the season with a 3-8 slate.

Frisco City scored on its first possession to grab a quick 7-0 lead, and then increased its lead to 14-0 with 8:29 left in the half on a 13-yard touchdown run by Johnny Simon and Simon's extra-point.

The Whippets got the ball right back at Kinston 31-yardline on a Bulldog fumble, and one play later were back in the endzone as Anward Andrews scored on a 14-yard pass reception. Simon again hit the extra-point, and with 6:31 left in the half Frisco City was in command with a 21-0 lead.

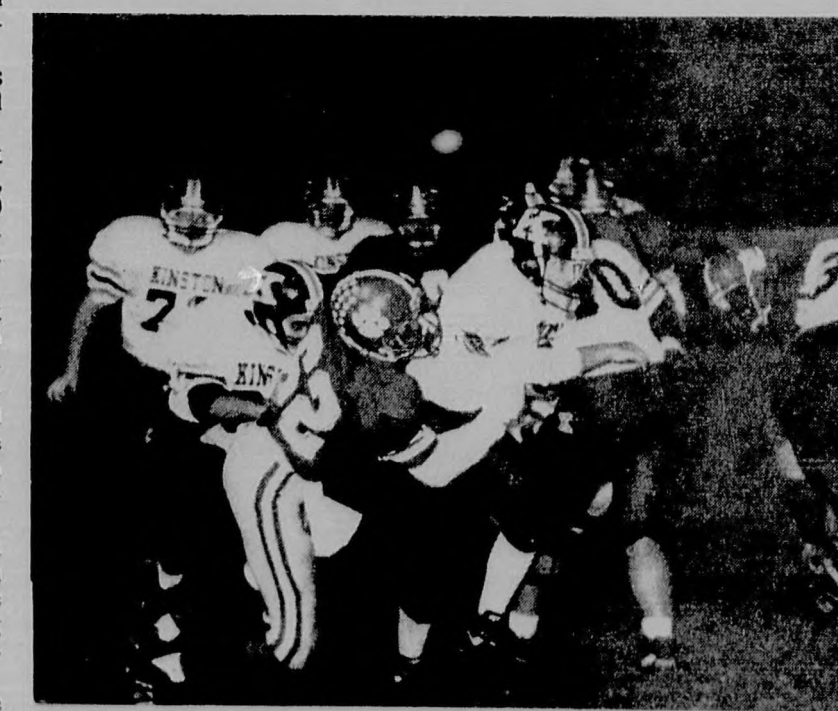

Frisco City had a touchdown nullified by a clipping penalty on its next series, but did drive to the Kinston 14-yardline before being turned back by the Bulldog defense.

The Whippets received the opening kick to start the second half and quickly put the game out of reach as Ken Simon hauled in a 40-yard TD pass. Johnny Simon added the extra-point, and with 10:13 remaining in the third quarter Frisco City was already celebrating with a big 28-0 lead.

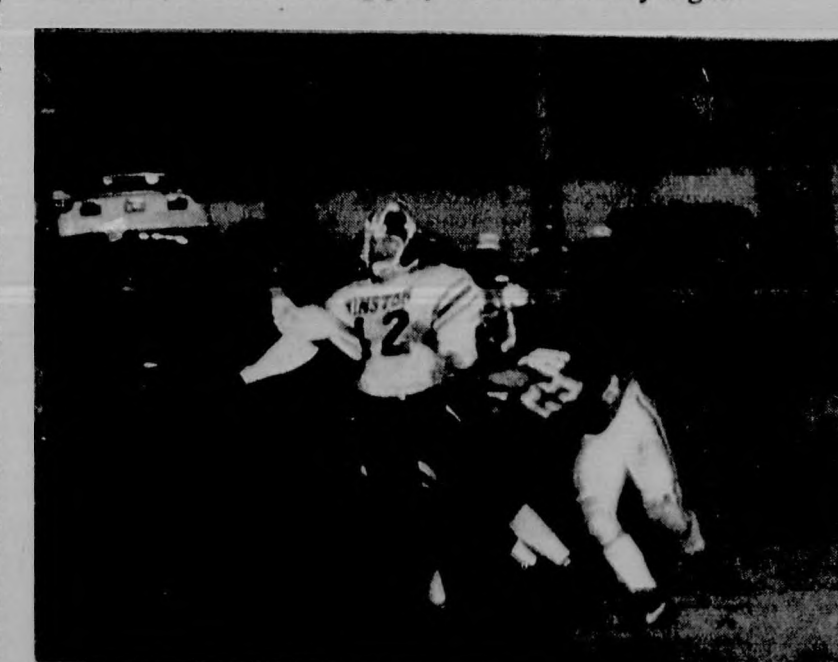

The Whippets blocked a Bulldog punt on Kinston's next possession and this time needed only four plays to cover the 13 yards to the endzone, with the score coming on a 4-yard pass to Anward Andrews. The extra-point try was blocked by Kinston's Jonathan Spears, but Frisco City owned a 40-0 lead with 6:47 still left in the third quarter.

Frisc City began its next offensive series at the Kinston 46-yardline and needed eight running plays to get back into the endzone. Ronald Parker got the touchdown on a 2-yard plunge, and even though the p.a.t. was again blocked by Jonathan Spears, the game was already over as Frisco City was on top 40-0 with :16 left in the third quarter.

Kinston was down big, but refused to quit, and salvaged a small measure of satisfaction as the Bulldogs' quarterback tries to get off a pass despite a heavy Frisco City pass rush. The Bulldogs lost 40-8 to end their season with a 3-8 record.

First Baptist Church - Elba

Some years ago I enjoyed a segment of the TV series entitled Wild Kingdom concerning the family bear. It was a view of how scientists flew in a helicopter over frozen Alaskan terrain in search of the bears as a part of a project to outline their migratory patterns. Having spotted one, they fired a tranquilizing dart into the huge animal to temporarily subdue him so that they could safely approach him. On the ground they were careful to make sure the bear was asleep before they went near him in order to attach a collar containing two radio transmitters. One of the radios broadcast a signal that could be tracked locally while the second transmitter sent a signal to a satellite in space that was monitored by a receiver in New Jersey. From near or far, the scientists were able to determine the location of the Alaskan polar bear and his migratory patterns.

Later that evening as the evening news was about to begin, the TV station aired a public service announcement: "It's ten o'clock. Do you know where your children are?" I thought to myself-it's a strange word, indeed, when we go to such great lengths to keep up with polar bears and we can't keep up with our children!

Jesus used strong language to encourage us to care for our children and to warn against causing children to stumble. (Matt. 18:5) The New Testament indicates that a person who does not provide for his own has denied the faith and is worse than an unbeliever. (1 Tim. 5:8) These instructions require not only that we support our children with food, shelter, and clothing, but that we give them spiritual direction and nurture. Parents are the best source children have for their understanding of their relationship to God. The parents' commitment to the lordship of Christ in word and deed are essential to meeting the challenge of leading children to a godly life.

Do you know where your children are-spiritually? Since we have no elaborate satellites to track their wanderings we have to listen to them as well as talk to them. Too many times we may be answering questions our children are not asking. Our second daughter came home from the second grade telling about how someone was passing out aspirins at school and many of the students took one. I flew into such a rage that it is a wonder she ever told me anything again. A more restrained response serves better than panic or horror to enhance open communication and child's willingness to disclose clues about where he or she is on a given day. We tried to screen what our children were allowed to watch on TV, but even the "family" programs were not safe, so we used them as springboards for calm family conversations about every subject imaginable. It's better for children to learn about these things from their parents than on the street.

Some people criticize their church week after week and then wonder why their children never darken the doors again when the option is theirs in adulthood; or they become the self-appointed critics of the church and perpetuate the family tradition. What children see in their parents often determines where they are spiritually far more than the pious clichés they hear on Sunday. What about personal devotion-prayer and Bible study? An old Gospel song sobbed, "If I could only hear my mother pray again..." Too many children today could sing, "If I could only hear my mother or father pray..." I read recently of a gathering where there was serious discussion of the need for prayer in the public schools. One person in the group asked the question, "How many of you in this room have had a time of prayer with your children during the past week?" and not one hand was raised. Many of us have warm memories of the daily devotion in our schools in this association. These churches began organizing to form this union in 1818. Thus, the birth of the Mulberry Missionary Baptist District Association was realized.

The purpose of this union was and still is for the up-lifting of God's Word; the love, desires, and aspirations of our forefathers by combining and directing the energies of the Mulberry Baptist churches.

Realizing the need for education, our forefathers purchased 52 acres of land near the New Zion Church which was called Spurlin Gap for the construction of our present educational building. However, there were many inconveniences in the area; therefore, another site had to be chosen. On November 10, 1978, the association bought two acres of land near Highway 166 in the Elba, AL, city limits, from Deacon T. L. and Sister Nettie R. Lindsey to build the present building on.

On November 10, 1979 the association met at the Elba Missionary Baptist Church, Elba, AL, in the adjourned session with a quorum of delegates to make the final plans for the construction of our present educational building.

Annual sessions of the association did not begin until 1882. Since that time, the association has met annually. Since the beginning of this great association, it has grown in various ways.

Under the umbrella of this association, we have the following departments: Women's Convention; Minister's and Deacons Union; Layman's Convention; Sunday School and BTU Congress; Choir and Ushers Union; Youth Rally.

Each is a functioning department and holds annual meetings.

The Mulberry District Association promotes the following causes: Home and foreign missions; Christian education; supports the advancement of the preaching and teaching of the Gospel of Jesus Christ.

History of the Mulberry District Association

The Mulberry Missionary Baptist Association has a very unique background. It was organized in Coffee County, Alabama in 1818. Since that time it has spread to the following counties: Coffee, Covington, Crenshaw, Geneva, and Pike. At this time there are 27 churches in this association. These churches began organizing to form this union in 1818. Thus, the birth of the Mulberry Missionary Baptist District Association was realized.

The purpose of this union was and still is for the up-lifting of God's Word; the love, desires, and aspirations of our forefathers by combining and directing the energies of the Mulberry Baptist churches.

commend the council pay the bills, saying it was the responsibility of the council to decide which bills to pay.

Council members then began to question why Stokes was involved in the Mularz and Simmons lawsuits, about a letter from Haywood to Vaughan instructing him to turn over all records on active cases to Mr. Stokes, paying for duplicate services; etc.

Council members John W. Sharpless said, "I think we should pay our just bills but we are out of line paying duplications."

Haywood noted Stokes had helped on another lawsuit against the city where there were four very good attorneys suing Elba and Vaughan needed the help. He noted Stokes had kept the city from losing a large judgment that it couldn't afford to pay. He said the suing parties had offered to settle for $200,000 prior to the last court date but he had refused because the city couldn't pay funds they didn't have and the city had no liability insurance at that time. (eight or ten years ago).

The lawsuit came after a local woman was killed with a police officer's pistol, allegedly by a man taken in a police car to see the woman.

He noted Mr. Stokes had tried several times to get a mistrial and had finally succeeded on the second day of the trial. However it was only a mistrial and the mayor didn't explain when the case would or would not be back in court.

Mr. Forrest Dean complained to the council about a garbage fee on his utility bill at a downtown building. He said he wasn't going to pay the charge, had tried to get the matter worked out and had so far failed to get results.

Following a lengthy discussion, Police Chief Jack Parker offered to pay the charges for the now closed Electronic Church. Dean refused and said it wasn't the money but the principal of the thing.

The council turned the matter over to City Clerk Henry Clark to settle.

way Administration providing it is completed by the January 14, 1995 deadline.

Pool stated that repair work on off-system roads is about 50% complete.

During the general business session, Wilson Mobley asked that commissioners review information received from DeltaCom Long Distance Service concerning long distance telephone charges.

Mobley told them that at the present time, the county is paying from 18¢ to 94¢ per minute (AT&T, Sprint, GTE, etc.) for long distance calls.

DeltaCom proposes a 13.1¢ per minute rate on all long distance calls regardless of where they are to or how long the conversation lasts.

According to Mobley, they presently provide service to 30 Alabama counties and are endorsed by the County Commission Association.

Prior to entering the bill-paying portion of the meeting, a short discussion took place between commissioners and a representative of Environmental Waste Management (EWM) concerning county garbage collection.

Commissioner Faulk stated that he had been receiving complaints that garbage receptacles were being left to close to the roadway, mailbox, etc.

He feels that these are problems that can be solved without any expense to anyone.

Employer demand results in new evening welding program at MacArthur

Three personnel directors of local and regional firms have called MacArthur State Technical College during the past three months with job offers for every welding graduate. Ingalls Shipbuilding of Pascagoula wanted to hire students sight unseen with the recommendation of welding instructor Jackie Woods.

"The calls from Ingalls and other major employers reflect favorably on the reputation of our welding program as well as the excellent job opportunities available in the welding field," states MacArthur President Raymond Chiam.

Because of requests from industry and local citizens, the college is expanding its welding program to offer welding classes at night beginning November 30. Classes will meet from 5:30 to 9:30 p.m. three nights each week. Students in the evening program can earn the same diplomas that are available in the day program. These technical diplomas include structural welding or pipe and structural welding. Applications are now being accepted in order to allow time for registration and completion of financial aid forms.

"The program will include all processes from shielded metal arc welding, to pipe, to robotics," stated Instructor Jackie Woods. "In addition to the courses for the beginners, we will also offer tube and stainless steel pipe welding for experienced welders during the course of the program," he said. "When a student graduates from this program, he or she will have the training needed in almost every aspect of the welding industry." MacArthur State Technical College is presently the only two-year college in the state which offers courses in robotics welding. Jackie Woods is a certified welding inspector and has taught at MacArthur for 11 years. He has taught many courses for local industries on-site and at MacArthur.

In addition to working with industries, Woods works closely with high school teachers who have co-planned the tech prep program of the South Central Alabama Tech Prep Consortium which allows students to be placed in advanced courses at MacArthur at the conclusion of their high school programs. The high school teachers and Woods sponsored a tech prep welding exhibition in January which featured national, regional, and local employers who provided information about salaries, working conditions, and job opportunities for welders.

For information about registration or financial aid, call MacArthur at 493-3573.

abide by the rules as set forth in the student handbook.

The board members stated that all policies concerning county schools would be strictly enforced. Also, they said that principals and teachers would be "backed" in the performance of their duties.

Turning to other matters of business, one newly elected member of the board, Ben Armlong, and two re-elected members, Harrell Carroll and Robin McKinnon, were installed.

District Judge Thomas Head administered the oath-of-office to the three men.

The board re-elected Virgil Coleman to serve as chairman and chose Charles Walker as vice chairman of the body.

Board members heard a report from Peggy Heneveld on the Reading Recovery Program, which was begun this year at the New Brockton Elementary School.

Prior to Mrs. Heneveld's report Superintendent Clayton Bryant told board members, "We are excited about what we are getting done and, hopefully, you'll, as time goes on, help us to find a way to expand this to our other schools."

The new program, which is designed for first graders, deals with students who have a reading problem on a one-to-one basis.

Presently, Mrs. Heneveld is working with four students for thirty minutes a day.

"The theory of the program is that all students are ready to read," said Heneveld. "They're just not all at the same spot at that particular time."

The remainder of Mrs. Heneveld's day is spent with "literacy groups" working on development of reading and writing skills.

All of the students participating in the program are drawn from a pool consisting of the lower 20% of the first grade.

It is the goal of the program, at the end of a 14 to 16 weeks, to return all the participants in the program to their class at an average reading level.

Before adjourning, newly elected board member Ben Armlong asked that the board began looking into the possibility of implementing a 12-month school year in the county system.

Others matters of business acted on by the board were as follows:

 Approved the hiring of Becky Hobbs as a certified teacher's aide for the 7th grade at Kinston.

 Supt. Bryant is to look into whether or not the county is in violation of any state policy regarding dual positions/workers in the school system.

 Approved the out-of-state attendance to a workshop concerning the reading program by Peggy Heneveld.
